

All Natural Wild Alaska Sockeye Salmon

The best Salmon in the world

As one of nature's original health foods, Alaska Salmon is wholesome while being an environmentally-friendly choice for consumers. Alaska Salmon swim freely in the cold, clean waters of the North Pacific, allowing them to spawn, grow and mature at a natural rate.

Our all-natural, preservative-free Sockeye Salmon has a lean, firm texture, and exceptional color and flavor, unsurpassed in the seafood industry.

- Wharf Seafoods supports sustainable fisheries that are environmentally responsible in their management and practices.

Wharf Seafoods' All Natural Wild Alaska Sockeye Salmon Single Serve Portions are not like twice-frozen, imported product that contains artificial coloring or preservatives. There is no reduction in portion size due to water loss or "pumping". Our product is all-natural, with no preservatives—caught, processed and packaged right here in the U.S.A! Our single serve vacuum packed bag maintains exceptional quality and provides ideal portion and storage control.

These fish are chilled to 32° Fahrenheit on the fishing grounds as soon as they are caught, then flash-frozen after processing at temperatures between -20° and -40° Fahrenheit. These temperatures protect the highest quality taste and texture of the fish, while protecting them from dehydration. Our airtight vacuum bags preserve freshness until you are ready to enjoy the best product Wharf Seafoods has to offer.

Wharf Seafoods, Inc. has been supplying frozen seafood to our customer base for over 25 years. We stand by each product we sell to assure that what you buy is what you expect. We are frozen seafood experts and have a proven track record in the seafood industry since 1982.
